In accordance with the Federal Communications Commission’s (FCC) Customer Propriety Network Information (CPNI) rules, telephone companies are required to set up password protection for your telephone account record. CPNI includes where, when and whom a customer places a call, as well as the types of service offering to which the customer subscribe and the extent to which the services are used. You will need to use a password when calling in to discuss any information that involves CPNI. According to FCC rules, only persons listed on your telephone bill can access or change information regarding your CPNI. You can add authorized users such as spouse, parents, children, employees, etc. to your account which would allow them to make changes or receive information about your account. They will need to know the password to obtain any information regarding your account. Please complete the information requested below. The form can be mailed to Norvado, PO Box 67, Cable, WI 54821, faxed to 715-798-3044, returned to one of our offices in Cable or Hayward, or emailed to us at info@norvado.com.

As a customer, you have the right at any time to restrict the use of CPNI for marketing purposes. If you choose not to permit us to disclose your CPNI with Norvado and our affiliates, you may opt-out of receiving such information. The services you are currently receiving will not be affected if you opt-out, however, restricting CPNI may make you ineligible to receive information from Norvado about new products and services, packaged offerings and various promotions.

If you do not want us to share your CPNI with Norvado and our affiliates you can notify us in writing or call our business office at 715-798-3303 within thirty (30) days. Once you opt-out you will remain on this list until you request otherwise.
